An Institutional Research Response to Change

Don't miss this opportunity to connect with friends and colleagues from across the region, learn about new developments in the field, and share the latest discoveries and tested approaches in institutional research.

In keeping with the conference theme, Planned and Prepared: An Institutional Research Response to Change, our keynote address will be from a keen watcher of coming trends, challenges, and opportunities, and an adviser to policy-makers, executives, and planners around the region, Tom Gillaspay, State Demographer for Minnesota.

Another exciting change taking place for AIRUM this fall is the debut of online registration. Through the assistance of the Office of Institutional Research at the University of Minnesota, AIRUM members can now register for the fall conference at www.irr.umn.edu/airum/conference08/. After completing the registration form, mail payments to Leonard Goldfine, AIRUM Treasurer.

Staying Overnight at the Hotel?

The Sheraton Bloomington Hotel is prepared for guest room reservations. Attendees can call 866-837-4278 toll free and ask for AIRUM 2008 to reserve a room. The single/double rate is

AIRUM 2008 Keynote—Tom Gillaspay

“Demographic Change In The Upper Midwest And Its Implications For Academic Research”

Tom Gillaspay has served as the Minnesota State Demographer since 1979. During that time, he has been involved with a wide-ranging set of issues, applying an understanding of demographic trends in such areas as the state's economy, health care for an aging population, education, higher education, welfare reform, rural population change, labor shortages, immigration, housing, government spending, and the aging state workforce.

Prior to moving to Minnesota, Tom held the position of demographer at the Andrus Gerontology Center, University of Southern California. He received his Ph.D. in economics from the Pennsylvania State University, specializing in economic demography. He also holds a Masters Degree in agricultural economics. Born and raised in Texas, he received his undergraduate degree in economics from the University of Texas at Austin.

Never attended an AIRUM conference? There's a $275 scholarship available.

New to AIRUM?

Scholarships are available for up to $275 each to cover most (or all) of the expenses for two individuals to attend the November 2008 AIRUM conference. Visit <http://airum.org> for scholarship criteria. Applications should be postmarked no later than October 15, 2008.

What is AIRUM?

AIRUM is a regional affiliate of the Association for Institutional Research (AIR – airweb.org), a national organization dedicated to the profession of institutional research. AIRUM's objectives are to:

- Improve and disseminate research predominantly of concern to institutions of higher education.

- Provide a collegium for professional persons in a common profession.
- Provide an avenue for professional accomplishment by offering at least an annual meeting at which papers may be presented, speeches given, workshops taught, and other such professional contributions made.
- Encourage association with the Association for Institutional Research and to promote AIR forums and other activities.

Presentations Scheduled

Thursday morning's breakfast will include a new welcome session.

AIRUM continues to produce an impressive mix of innovative research, practical applications, and engaging discussions. This year's conference again boasts a full slate of presentations showcasing the talents of our region. Among the timely topics receiving particular focus this year are:

- student assessment
- the new federal race and ethnicity reporting requirements for IPEDS surveys

- institutional accountability.

First-time attendees (and seasoned conference veterans) are invited to participate in a new welcome session, integrated with the Thursday morning breakfast and social gathering, to learn more about AIRUM and how to get the most possible from all that AIRUM has to offer.

This year's conference promises to build on past successes in offering the best that our members have to offer.

Registration is now easier, too. Register on-line at <http://www.irr.umn.edu/airum/conference08/>, fill out the registration form attached to this newsletter, or go to <http://airum.org> to print a conference registration form.

The complete program, with session descriptions and times, will also be available on the AIRUM web site shortly.
